

The ALTA Bookfair is always a celebration of our community's work.

During our virtual 2020 conference, ALTA is delighted to share this list of translation titles that are available from a distributor other than Bookshop.org or Small Press Distribution. Enjoy browsing the titles translated by your colleagues, and know that with every purchase, you're supporting translators and their presses! For more titles, see the rest of the ALTA43 Bookfair at Small Press Distribution and Bookshop.org.

The titles featured below were submitted by members and conference attendees in response to a call for submissions open from June 16 to August 17, 2020. If you have any questions, please write to us at info@literarytranslators.org. Happy reading!
